Pune: In an initiative aimed at inculcating a spirit of traffic rules amongst the driver community, the city police traffic branch in association with Maurya Trans Facility, an Information Technology (IT) vendor, conducted a day-long workshop entitled 'Drivers Meet' here on Saturday.

The event was attended by around 30 drivers, which comprised of Road Safety Patrol (RSP) officer Bhimrao Gajare, IT Transport Head Rafique Nadaf and Maurya Trans Facility, MD, Ram Suryavanshi.

Suryavanshi said that initiative was aimed at creating a greater interface between the driver community and the traffic police.

"The drivers face a number of problems and hence traffic policemen are their first helpers. There is a need for a greater dialogue between the two so that people are benefited at large. Besides, greater interaction between the traffic cops and drivers in IT corridor of Hinjawadi will lead to swift resolution of traffic disputes and ease the flow of traffic," he added.

Gajare, in his address, said that the driver community needs to be trained in following traffic rules, which in turn will result in congestion free roads and quick movement of vehicles through reduction in traffic.

Nadaf said that it was the first step in creating awareness about traffic rules and it would emerge to become a major platform for traffic ideation and change in Pune City.
